MR. JAMES COTTER,

was by profession, a farmer, residing in Sophiasburgh in good circumstances. He was universally respected; decided, and well informed in political matters; and as a proof of the public confidence was elected M.P.P. In Parliament he served his constituents faithfully, and maintained a reputation for consistency and uprightness. In 1819, when party spirit animated the two political parties, he became a candidate for re-election, but after a close contest was defeated by James Wilson, Esq.

TO THE EDITOR

LADY OF 95 WRITES

Editor, The Picton Gazette,
Picton, Ontario: 30 Mar. 1966

I am writing to inform you of my change of address from 5606 Heatherdane Drive, Los Angeles, California, to 281 Ledroit Street, Laguna Beach, California, 92651.

In the Gazette of March 2nd a history of Sophiasburg which was of great interest to me as I am a descendant of the James Cotter, who was the first Justice of the Peace and the first Member of Parliament.

I am now ninety-five and the last surviving member of my family. I used to hear my grandfather, Samuel Macdonald Cotter tell of his father's riding to Toronto on horseback to attend Parliament and of other interesting incidents of that time as he was born and brought up on the farm a mile from Northport, now owned by Mr. Fred Kotchapaw. Also, I would like to mention that my great-grandfather James Cotter was one of the first subscribers to The Gazette and it has been in the family all these years, and as you know I am taking it and would feel lost if I did not get the news of my home town every week.

I am writing you as to my change of address and felt like mentioning the fact of my being a descendant of the very early pioneer — James Cotter.

Thanking you and looking forward to the Gazette every week.

I am, yours sincerely,
Grace Cotter Walker.

Two Mansion Houses

The article by Grey Hamilton in a recent Globe and Mail, relative to the site of the Lord Simcoe Hotel, is erroneous in an important respect; and that is in confusing two Toronto hotels of the same name—Mansion House. The first was an inn almost across from Jordan's York Hotel, which stood on the south side of King Street between Berkeley and Princess Streets. This is half a mile or so east of the corner of King and York Streets, which, in 1819 and for some years longer, was farm land—even King and Yonge was not a crossroad at that period.

The first hotel at the corner of King and York Streets was John Cotter's New Bristol Coffee House on the site of the present Prince George. Subsequently, it was John Ellah's, then his widow's, and then the Rossin House in a large new building.

Across the street was the Shakespeare Hotel (on the site of The Globe and Mail building), and on the northwest corner the Mansion House (later the Palmer House). The story is correctly given of both Mansion Houses in my Pioneer Inns and Taverns (Volume One, pages 71 and 114), but is confused by Mr. Hamilton and my book is misquoted as a result. No doubt the wine vaults belonged to the second Mansion House, but in the interest of historical accuracy I point out that the earlier inn of that name had no connection with it.
